Galaxy steaming ahead with contract awards

Ravensthorpe miner Galaxy Resources is cooking with lithium after arranging its Chinese arm and awarding local plant contracts.

A joint venture of DRA Pacific, Mintrex and BEC Engineering won the Engineering, Procurement and Construction Management contract for the Mt Cattlin site, which includes the construction of a crusher and concentrator process plant at Ravensthorpe.

The plant will produce 137,000 tonnes of spodumene concentrate a year.

Last week the company announced it had established a wholly owned Hong Kong investment subsidiary Galaxy Lithium International Limited to develop the Jiangsu Lithium Carbonate Project.
